

Education and the promotion of community development, religion and health are all part of the work of the Glen Tanar Charitable Trust. The Trust runs this visitor centre and the glen's Ranger Service, as well as looking after the chapel, once a drover's inn and now a popular venue for local weddings. The Trust Rangers work with over 100 groups every year, using the glen as a rich environment in which to learn about our world – and ourselves.

